

Malt Street Regeneration Public Exhibitions

20 and 21 April 2016

Aerial view of the sites today

Berkeley Homes is pleased to invite you to a public exhibition to view initial concept proposals for a residential led mixed-use development on its site off the Old Kent Road.

Berkeley Homes owns the former Hygrade Meat Factory at Bianca Road, Acorn Wharf and Surrey Wharf. The entire site is located within the Old Kent Road Opportunity Area designated by the Mayor of London and our proposals will be brought forward in line with this and the Old Kent Road Area Action Plan currently being prepared by London Borough of Southwark.

As local residents and businesses, we value your views at this early stage of the process and the exhibition is an opportunity for you to have your say and speak to members of the project team who will be on hand to answer your questions.

The public exhibitions will take place on Wednesday 20 April and Thursday 21 April. Please turn overleaf for more information.
